

Attention Reserve Chorus Members:

Free Music Reading Classes just for You!

The Singing Angels music reading class is a wonderful way to supplement your child's music education. The classes will be taught by Amanda Fertal, and Heather Liuzzo and will cover the basics of how to read and write music.

Some of the subjects covered in class include identification of musical symbols (treble/bass clef, staff, repeat signs, etc.), notes on the staff, pitch matching, reading rhythms, time signatures and key signatures.

Even if your child can read music, already studies an instrument, or is just beginning, music theory will help him/her achieve his/her music potential.

Classes will begin Saturday, February 24, 2018, before rehearsal from 10:30 until 11:15am and continue every Saturday. Angels should bring a snack and a beverage to consume between 11:15 and 11:30am.

Any questions? Please contact Carol Thompson at (216) 432-5555 Ext.1700 or carol@singingangels.org.
